Message from Mrs Donne

We're now on the home straight towards the Christmas holidays, it's been lovely getting into the Christmas spirit with music and decorating going on in both classes, and the tree is up! All the children have worked hard beginning to put the nativity together. It's looking a bit different this year to recent years, we are telling the Christmas stories mainly with traditional carols, and the younger children are acting out the parts to make a tableau.

News from Swallow Class

We have finished a really fun English unit this week, looking at the John Lewis advert 'Monty the Penguin' and writing a persuasive letter to Santa to send him a penguin friend, using synonyms for sad, such as despondent or miserable, and also trying to use conjunctions. We have also been learning about Tenzing Norgay, who, along with Edmund Hillary, was the first person to summit Mount Everest. We've made flags which is a tradition in Nepal to put at the top of the mountain.

News from Hare Class

We hope you enjoyed the 'Share our Learning' afternoon. The children really enjoyed putting it together and it was great to reflect on all the things we have done in the classroom this term!

On Tuesday we were lucky enough to join lots of other local primary schools at QE for an orienteering event. The children made us proud with their enthusiasm and manners. We must offer our gratitude to Mr Gillon and the 41 Year 9 children who organized it and looked after us so well!

Stars of the Week

Swallow Star of the Week is	Ethan - for a superb attitude to learning this week, fantastic progress in phonics and inspiring other children to get creative!
Hare Star of the Week is	Raffie - for really impressing us with his positive attitude and maturity. But this certificate is really here to celebrate his progress and all the ways he has improved his learning. It has been wonderful to see!
