Message from Mrs Donne

I forgot to say in last week's newsletter a huge thank you to Amy (Asher's mum) for donating the raffle to the PTFA from the Ceilidh in the Village Hall. The PTFA have kindly agreed to fund the mosaic project that the children will start this week with our resident artists. The mosaic will be displayed outside school and feature an individual piece of art by each individual child, as well as a collaborative design featuring the 3 hares. It sounds brilliant, we've started on our individual pieces this morning which has been great fun.

News from Swallow Class

We have finished our Oi frog story this week, the children have written their own versions using funny rhyming pairs. We have been learning about the main food groups, which can be followed up at home really effectively by talking about which bits are which on your plate at teatime. We've talked about protein carbs and dairy and fruit and veg.

News from Hare Class

This week lots of us have suffered from the nasty bugs going around. The children have, as always, shown great resilience and done their best. We are really getting into our Explorers topic and have had fun with shadow theatre.

Stars of the Week

Swallow Star of the Week is	Alex - for making a very successful start to Y1. He has shown a huge amount of perseverance with his writing, and makes me laugh every day!
Hare Star of the Week is	Ava K - for being a brilliant member of Hare Class. Ava has shown us how wonderfully kind and caring she is with other children. We have also been really impressed with the way she gives her best to her learning.
